

Measures That Matter Data Summit
Public Broadcast Agenda
September 20, 2017
1:30 – 3:15 pm ET

Participation Link: <http://www.tvworldwide.com/events/mtmdsummit/170920/>

Measures that Matter was made possible in part by the Institute of Museum and Library Services RE-00-16-0181-16.

Meeting Goals:

- Develop a shared understanding among participants that:
  - Our needs for library data have evolved as the role of libraries has shifted in the digital age;
  - There are good models in other fields to learn from and experienced people who can help us;
  - The solutions will result in better quality data that helps us improve our services, better serve our communities, and demonstrate our value to voters, legislators and funders;
  - There is no quick fix to this complex problem, finding solutions will be an iterative process that takes place over time; and
  - Together, we need to develop and articulate an Action Plan that will move the field forward.
- Create a clear, detailed plan on how library data challenges can be addressed.
- Garner commitment to work together to approve and advance the plan.

Agenda:

1:30 – 2:30 pm	Perspective on Measures that Matter (Public Broadcast Session)
	Purpose: Opportunity for those not in Baltimore to hear a summary of conversations from each session and reflections from participants, and to pose questions. Kathryn Matthew, Director, Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS);  Sandra Treadway, President, Chief Officers of State Library Agencies (COSLA);  Stacey Aldrich, Hawaii State Librarian; Kurt Kiefer, State Librarian and Assistant State Superintendent, Division for Libraries and Technology, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction;  Kendall Wiggan, Connecticut State Librarian
2:30 – 3:15 pm	Closing Plenary
	Brooks Rainwater, Senior Executive and Director of the National League of Cities' Center for City Solutions